Cloud Migration

Cloud technology has matured and become an essential part of line-of-business operations.

Organiztions now have a choice of deploying their key applications entirely or partially to a combination of on-premise data center, third-party hosted / co-located private cloud, third party public clouds, or a hybrid combination of any of the above.
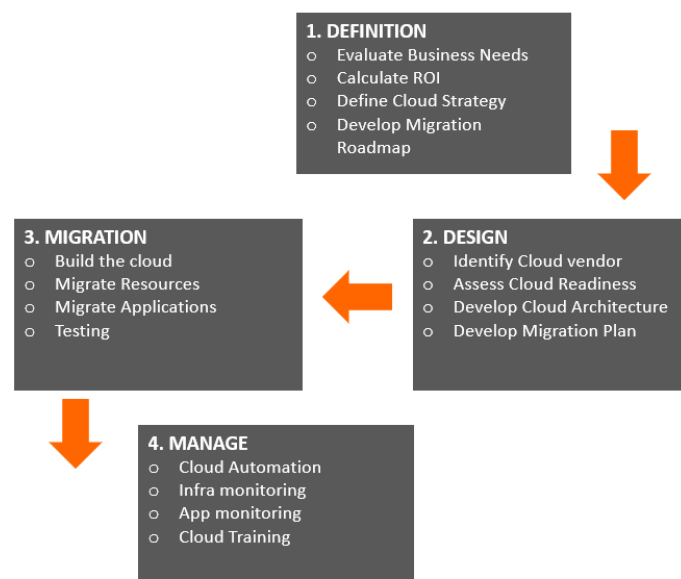

While support and maintenance of the cloud infrastructure is the responsibility of the service provider – everything else right from capacity planning up to cloud deployment and management rest on your shoulders.

ValignIt is a pioneering multi-cloud Hybrid IT solution provider for all your cloud computing needs. Our proven services and solutions help you securely move the right workload to the cloud and rapidly modernize and integrate applications.

With ValignIt, you get a single service provider delivering all the infrastructure options and seamlessly scale and migrate your chosen application workloads to your choice of world class public cloud services.
